In a personal interview with CIO magazine, Donald Whitney, Founder, President & CEO at Corporate Sports Unlimited and Laura Clark, Vice President, Health & Wellness Division, CORPORATE HEALTH UNLIMITED shares information on the company's services and solutions, their secrets to sustenance in a competitive market and the way forward for organizations to have a proactive workforce.

WHAT IS CORPORATE HEALTH UNLIMITED'S CORE MISSION PHILOSOPHY?

Laura: We are all about customer satisfaction and positively impacting the well-being of the total population we serve. Organizations engage CHU for their complete health & wellness needs that include management of their onsite fitness center, proper design and equipment selection, wellness programming, and the latest in health & fitness technology. We manage the day to day affairs for a successful fitness center operation with our highly certified and educated team of fitness and exercise science degree professionals; including wellness coordinators, managers, personal trainers, registered dieticians and nutritionists, massage therapist and guest service associates. At CORPORATE HEALTH UNLIMITED, our most significant focus is to engage employees on many different fitness and wellness levels and guide them to perform at their optimal best.

Donald: Today more than ever before, work-life-health balance is essential in this fast-moving world we wake up to every day. It is crucial that fitness and wellness solutions are provided to all organizations to help retain and attract quality & productive employees for their business. We don't believe people are motivated by just money, everyone deserves a quality of life and there are great dividends and ROI to companies that choose to recognize that an overall employee health & wellness initiative matters. Our fitness and wellness services assist in a major way to the overall wellbeing of every employee by providing the kind of fitness and wellness programming that any employer or multi-tenant office development owner wants to have in order to reduce turnover and provide a major savings to their overall insurance cost. It's a win-win for everyone!

TELL US ABOUT THE FITNESS SOLUTIONS AND SERVICES THAT CORPORATE HEALTH UNLIMITED OFFERS?

Laura: The beautiful thing is when clients hire CHU, we handle absolutely everything. We professionally run the entire operation including management, staffing, cleaning, recruitment, preventative maintenance, purchase of equipment, and wellness programming, as well as back-end membership management, accounting, and financial and operational statements for all our clients. Our team focuses on engaging and helping employees lead a happier and healthier life. We have developed researched-based, unique wellness programs specific to client populations that help reach employees outside of the fitness center. We have implemented these programs both nationally and internationally for company-wide participation.

In addition to our onsite fitness center management, we just rolled out our very own inside CHU wellness program called Wellness 360, which is our Hybrid model where we offer wellness programming, group fitness classes, digital marketing, and monthly wellness events for multi-tenant Class-A buildings and organizations who either have a 'smaller' onsite fitness center in the 3,000-5,000 sq. ft. range or buildings without a fitness center at all. Wellness 360 is a corporate health & wellness approach that improves social, financial, nutritional, mental, and physical wellness to all employees.

Donald: It is important to us that employees are healthy because when they are healthy, an employer is getting considerably more energy and longevity from the employee. Under our parent company of Corporate Sports Unlimited, we also serve most of our clients through a separate division, CORPORATE EVENTS UNLIMITED. Under this division, we currently produce over 300+ events each year serving over 3,000,000 annually for their health fairs, holiday events, philanthropic events, company picnics, team building days and more.
